- Conference speaker & brand ambassador

Technical Analyst. Trading Guru. Owner of the Alpha Trading Formula.

Professor Andreas Thalassinos, as he is known in the industry, is a highly reputed and one of the best known financial markets lecturers across the world. With a remarkable career of over two decades in the forex industry, Mr. Thalassinos' expertise transpires from the hundreds of educational materials he prepared, as well as countless webinars, seminars and workshops he conducted.

His passion for mathematics and trading urged him to study the markets from a purely mathematical and mechanical perspective. He is an active advocate of algorithmic trading and has developed hundreds of automated systems, technical indicators, and trading tools. His products are currently being used by numerous forex brokers, investment firms, and traders around the world. Mr. Thalassinos has also been awarded the international MSTA professional certificate by the Society of Technical Analysts in the UK, alongside other distinctions such as the CFTe and MFTA by the International Federation of Technical Analysts in the USA.

In 2008, Mr. Thalassinos founded FXWizards, an educational company specialised in forex trading, with the goal to provide in-depth knowledge of trading centred around swing trading and profit-locking as a means of capital preservation based on his research findings and results.

He is currently travelling around the globe giving seminars as a guest speaker in forex conferences.
