Analyst. Strategist. Market Mind-Reader.

Jameel Ahmad is a very well respected investment strategist and corporate ambassador with a wealth of expertise in the financial markets and fundamental analysis. Joining NAGA as Director of Investment Strategy, Jameel will help strengthen the fintech company's footprint in Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East.

With nearly a decade of experience in the financial markets, Jameel's main specialty being global markets, currencies, commodities and emerging markets. He is a frequent contributor and speaker on top-tier media channels. He is relied on for his fresh, straightforward approach to fundamental analysis and the financial markets.

> "NAGA is not a typical brokerage, nor is it another imitator grappling to make its mark in an already oversaturated marketplace. This is a fintech company, with powerful proof of concept and I am thoroughly looking forward to raising the international profile of the NAGA brand."

Did you know?

Jameel's love for markets, economics and finance began when he visited his brother in July 2007, who had just migrated to the United Arab Emirates at the early stages of the global financial crisis. Within months the exchange power of the GBP to AED changed drastically, which is what encouraged his fascination with FX!
